The New Art Dealers Alliance (NADA) has named the 151 exhibitors that will take part in its 2024 edition, scheduled to take place December 3–7 at Ice Palace Studios.

The art fair will feature 127 participants in the main section and 25 in the NADA Projects section, drawn from 37 countries and 66 cities. Among these are closely watched galleries like 56 Henry, Carbon 12, Ceysson & Bénétière, de boer, Tara Downs, Embajada, Harper's, Nina Johnson, Misako & Rosen, and Sargent's Daughters.

This edition will also feature 59 first-time exhibitors, including April April, Blue Velvet, Sea View, Foreign and Domestic, cadet capela, and Gallery Common.

In a statement, NADA executive director Heather Hubbs said, "The 22nd edition of NADA Miami marks yet another electric year for us, building on the momentum of our inaugural presentations in Warsaw and Paris. We are excited to be back in Miami to celebrate together with our community of artists, dealers, and supporters."
